

Email Templates

Is branding important to your company?

insilico™ is able to include your company logo and any images that reflect your business on your emails.

This way all correspondence sent by you will reinforce the brand of your company.

Additionally we can “tweak” your stationery from time to time to identify themes such as Christmas, Easter, Australia Day... just let us know what image you would like us to portray for you.

What's Included?

From $550 (incl. GST), the Email Template package includes an email template using your company's style and images.

Note: You will be required to provide text and graphics

The email stationery will work in Windows XP using Microsoft Outlook* and can be sent to both standard email software and web-mail (including GMail, Yahoo Mail and Hotmail).

*Email stationery is unstable under Vista and Outlook 2007 due to compatibility issues and new Microsoft policies.

insilico™ can also provide other services for an additional cost. These services include:

- stock images
- theme design
